‘Silent No More’ Screening

16 Days of Activism

Wed 25 November 2026

To support the 16 Days of Activism Campaign, join us for a special screening of ‘Silent No More’, a powerful documentary by Quantum Support Services in partnership with Deakin University sharing the stories of multicultural women who have experienced family violence.

The screening highlights the importance of culturally safe, trauma-informed support and reminds us that no woman has to face family violence alone. Following the film, a panel of representatives from local services will explore how we can build understanding, strengthen support and create safer, more inclusive communities.

Everyone is welcome — community members, practitioners, support workers and services are encouraged to attend and be part of the conversation.
